UNDERTAKERS IN COUNCIL.

MEETING OF THE MISSOURI PUNERAL DIRECTORS' ASSOCIATION.

Welcomed to the City by Mayor Davis and Entertained by the Commercial Club -Matters of Interest Discussed -Roll of Members.

The Missouri Funeral Directors' Association met yesterday morning in Tacoma hall, 1318 Grand avenue, in eighth annual convention. The meeting was called to order at 10 o'clock prompt, by President J. C. Horms, of Neosho. About 150 members of the association were pres-ent, representing nearly every county in the state. The programme was opened with prayer, offered by Rev. J. M. Cromer, of this city. Then followed the address of welcome by Mayor Davis, who cordially welcomed the association in one of his characteristic and pleasing addresses. The response was given by President J. C. Herms, of the association.

A recess was then taken for fifteen minutes to enable the visitors to become acquainted with the mayor and members of the council and citizens who were present. At the end of the recess President Herms delivered his annual address. He mentioned the fact that as soon as the embalmers' bill became a law, the state was immediately flooded with circulars stating that certain schools of instruction in embalming in different parts of the state were the best for the necessary instruction in embalming in different parts of the state were the best for the necessary instruction needed before being called upon to pass the examination which this law requires. "The gentleman repudiated by the association two years ago in St. Louis was the most active in canvassing students," he said. He further stated that the first board of state examiners, according to the recently enacted statute relating to embalmers, had been appointed as follows: George R. Hickman, of Butler; Hoyt Humphrey, of Lamar, M. H. Alexander, of St. Louis; J. C. Hermes, of Neosho; John W. Wagner, of Kansas City.

The association then adjourned until 1:30 of clock. At the afternoon session the reports of the scoretary and the various committees were heard. The applications of many undertakers were received for admission into the association. Ex-President of the Association, Ex-President of the Association of E. Hickman, of Butler, was to have delivered an address on "How to Conduct Funerals at Home and at Church," but as he was not prepared, he compromised by delivering an extemporaneous talk on the same subject.

The committee on constitution and bylaws reported the following amendment section 2 of article 2 of the constitution, which was adopted: "Every funeral director or his assistant who is an embalmer; in Missouri or Kansas, of good moral character, engaged in the uniortaking business, may become a member by a low-thrids vote at any regular meeting of the association, upon a favorable."

The feature of the attention session was the paper read by J. W. Vagner on "How We Embalm the Dead of Freumonia." The following new homesters in our favorable to the arterial infection of embalmers in preumonia cases, as the

VIA CARBOLIC ACID ROUTE.

John Shaw, Despondent Over the Ill Luck That Had Long Attended Him, Puts an End to His Life.

John Shaw committed suicide yesterday afternoon in his room at the Colorado hotel, 1811 Grand avenue. Shaw was weary of life and sought relief by emptying a draught of carbolic acid down his throat. The body was discovered by a young com-panion of the suicide, Frank Hood, a 14-The body was discovered by a young companion of the suicide. Frank Hood, a 14-year-old boy, who called at the hotel to go with Shaw to a park to spend the afternoon. Mounting to Shaw's room in the Colorado hotel, the hoty pushed open the unlocked door and entered. Shaw was lying on the bed, partly undressed, and by his side lay an empty bottle that had once contained carboile acid. Hood knew at a glance that his friend was dead, and hurtying downstairs called the hotel proprietor. Stewart & Carroll removed the body to their morgue, where it now lies.

John Shaw had been traveling about the country with young Hood for several months, giving stereopticon exhibits in country towns. In Shaw's room was found a letter of twenty-seven pages, closely written, which gave a detailed history of his life. Shaw requested that the letter be given to the Associated Press. In the letter Shaw stated that he had made and lost several fortunes, at one time being a banker at Warwick, Ont. He attributed all his misfortunes of the last ten years to his wife, who now lives at 568 Amander avenue, Jopin, Mo, with his four children and brother. William Shaw, Four dimes were all the money found on the lead man's body. In his manuscript, he referred to them and requested that one of these be given to each of his children to remember him by.

Telegrams have been sent by the coroner to his family at Jopin, Mo., asking what disposition to make of the body. No inquest will be held, as the written statement of the dead man shows premeditated suicide.

THE FIRST RIG ATTRACTION

THE FIRST BIG ATTRACTION.

Takazawa's Famous Troupe of Japanese Jugglers and Acrobats Will Delight Visitors to Washington Park.

The real opening of the season at Washington park will occur on next Sunday when Takazawa's famous troope of Japan when Takkazwa's famous troope of Jap-anese performers will begin an engage-ment. This is the first regular attraction of the season, and one of the finest, as well. This troupe of jugglers and acrobats is the finest that ever left Japan beyond a question, and some of their acrobatic, juggling and balancing feats are simply juggling and balancing feats are simply marvelous.

Every afternoon and evening during next week this famous troupe will delight visitors to Washington park with an extensive programme, which will be varied each day, as the feats which they perform are almost without number, and each seems more wonderful than the last. The Japs have always been great favorites in Kansas City, and Takazawa's troupe is said to be much finer than that of Fukiro, which so delighted the patrons of the park last season. The opening of the engagement on Sunday ought to draw to Washington park one of the biggest crowds in the history of that favorite park, as the attraction is certainly one which is worthy of the largest patronage of the people of Kansas City and surrounding territory. It is seldom that such a show is offered free, but the management of Washington park has determined this year to outdo all former records in providing high class entertainment for the visitors to the park.

CONTEMPLATED CHANGE.

The Kansas City Cable Railway Company's Trains May Be Run Through the Eighth Street Tunnel.

The Kansas City Cable Company is fig-uring on abandoning the Ninth street in-cline over which the cars run from Jefferson street to the Union depot and running its trains through the tunnel of the ele-vated road on Eighth street. The company vated road on Eighth street. The company has long desired to get rid of the incline, which is costly to keep in repair and has been the cause of some bad accidents by trains getting out of control of the gripman. Now that the cievated road has come under the control of the Metropolitan system and that system is on the point of being consolidated with the Kansas City system, there is a chance to get to use the tunnel and do away with the incline altogether. The consent of the property owners on Washington street will have to be secured for the building of a connecting line from Ninth street to Eighth street, and the change will also have to be sanctioned by the council.

President Walton H. Holmes, of the Kansas City Cable Railway Company, said last night that while it was true that the company was figuring on the project, no definite steps had yet been taken and none could be taken until the two systems were consolidated. He said that while the matter was being talked of, it would certainly be a long time, if eyer, before the proposed change could be made. has long desired to get rid of the incline

The Inventory Will Be Filed at the Proper Time Result Not Made Public.

Commissioners Web Withers, Peter Soden, Phil D. Chappell, A. A. Whipple and John Stevens completed their division of the real estate left by the late A. L. Masson, yesterday afternoon. The inventory they had prepared was immediately turned over to O. H. Dean, the attorney, Mrs. Dean being one of the heirs. The papers have yet to be gone over by the attorneys before they are filed at the court house. The heirs are Mrs. Mason, Mrs. Nichols, nee Mrs. Graham, and her children, and Miss. Mason. The task of dividing the property has been quite heavy. The commissioners met first on April 23. Several days were spent in going over the city and viewing the realty, after which the task of dividing it was begun. This required several meetings. There is a bare possibility that the division may not be satisfactory, in which case the commissioners will have to adjust the differences. Mr. Dean declined to make public the result of the commissioners work when questioned yesterday afternoon. Mr. Mason died in the autumn of 1892, leaving an estate valued at $1,50,000. MORE SHEEP COMING TO THIS MAR-RET THAN EVER BEFORE.

They Are Being Shipped Here From All Parts of the West-Selling at Satisfactory Prices At the Yards With Stock.

The sheep market here is attracting as much attention as the market for cattle and hogs. Values have so far recovered as not only to make it possible but profitable for flockmasters of the Southwest to furnish mutton to the trade here. The result is many more sheep are coming to this market than ever before, and no distance seems to be too far for them to travel.

Yesterday both Arizona and Californla had sheep here and they sold at satisfactory prices. S. W. Rand, of Hol brook, A. T., sold here yesterday, through J. C. Knollin & Booth, 953 lambs averaging 75 pounds at $3.50, 85 wethers averaging 95 pounds at $3.00 and 87 ewes averaging 84 pounds at $2.75, He says sheep are doing well in his section, and at present prices they are more satisfactory to handle in Arizona than cattle, as they will stand drouth better than cattle.

The passengers in a Washington street

cable car witnessed a laughable sight yes-terday evening about supper time, as the car stopped to unload at the Tenth street crossing. A small boy was standing on corossing. A small boy was standing on the sidewalk decked out in a full police-man uniform. From the helmet that shaded his full, round face, to the dimin-utive club that swung by his side, he utive club that swing by his side, he looked every inch a policeman. As he stood there, calmly surveying the boundaries of his beat, a boy much larger than himself slouched up to him and made a motion as if to do him violence. As quick as a wink the little officer swing his club and hit his foe a stinging blow in the face. The big boy retreated and the crowd in the car applauded the little fellow for his brayers.

Arrested for Assaulting Ills Wife.
Charles S. Blunk, a Kansas City, Kas, saloonkeeper, was arrested by Humane Officer Greenman yesterday on the charge of assaulting his wife. Blunk had taken his three children, aged 2, 3 and 6 years, from their home across the river and brought them to Kansas City, placing them at Third and Oak streets. Mrs. Blunk was frantic when she discovered the loss of her children and went in search of them. With Humane Officer Greenman's assistance they were soon located and returned to her. Blunk heard of the children being found and, meeting his wife, struck her. For this he was placed under arrest. Mrs. Blunk claims her husband intended to take the children away and hide them where she would be unable to find them.

I have recently obtained samples of the chief baking powders in the market, and have subjected them to careful chemical examination to determine their purity wholesomeness and leavening power. As the result of my tests I find the Royal Baking Powder superior to the others in every respect. It is entirely free from all adulteration and unwholesome impurity, and in baking it sives off a greater volume of leavening gas than any other powder. It is therefore, not only the purest, but also the strongest, powder with which I am acquainted, WALTER S. HAINES, M. D., Consulting Chemist, Chicago Board of Health.

scious in Her Room at the Centropolis Hotel—Wesry of Life.

At 6 o'clock Monday evening a handsome, well dressed woman, about 20 years old, entered the Centropolis hotel and, going to the parlor, rang for a bellioy. When the bellioy reached the parlor the woman handed him a card bearing the name of Mrs. Julia King, Chicago, Ill., and requested to be registered. The woman was given a room, and nothing more was seen of her Monday hight. The chambermaid knocked at the room door a short time after the woman's arrival and asked if she desired supper. She received a negative answer. Late Monday hight the hotel porter detected the edor of escaping gas in the hall. No investigation was made, as a plumber had been at work requiring the gas pipes during the day and it, was thought by the night clerk that the gas was escaping from a leak.

At 9 o'clock yesterday forenoon a chambermaid tried to awaken Mrs. King in order to clean the room. She could get no answer to her repeated knocks. Landlord Criley was called, and with the assistance of the hotel engineer, broke down the door. The woman was found lying motioniess on the bed in the last stages of asphyxiation. Police Surgeon Hyde was summoned and, after working over the body for two hours with an electric battery, succeeded in restoring animation. An examination of the room showed every crack and crevice tightly closed with strips of clothing, which the woman had torn from her dress. She had then turned on the gas and sought relief from domestic troubles by asphyxiation. A note addressed to the management was found on a small table in the room. In it Mrs. King pleaded forgiveness for the stigma she would cast upon the hotel by her suicide ander its roof, and stated that she wished the management to sell her watch and chain and pay her funeral expenses with the proceeds. Mrs. King was removed to the city hospital. The attending physicians believe her recovery certain.
